Programs that Provide Employment-Related Services and Supports

The following are Federal and State programs and other resources in your geographic area that offer job-related services and supports that can help you to explore, discover, experience, and get a competitive integrated job. Competitive integrated job means a job in the community where a person with a disability gets the same things that those without disabilities get:

- Paid at least minimum wage
- Be eligible for the same work benefits
- Have a chance to talk and work with co-workers and customers
- Earn a pay raise or have a chance to interview for a better job
